Going out for quality time

our guide to what to do between meals

The Broads offers endless activities to work up an appetite for a delicious meal or to relax afterwards. The Broads is part of the family of national parks, with delights for all the senses, whether you want to feast your eyes on big skies, hear the booming of a bittern, one of its rare birds, touch the feathery reeds, smell the sweet scent of wild honeysuckle or just enjoy good local food.

Walking

Many people associate the Broads with boating, but what does it offer to those who want to explore on foot? Lots - with over 190 miles (300 km) of footpaths through some of the area's most attractive landscapes. Boardwalks are often the best way to reach marshy areas of the Broads and many are on nature reserves. These and other easy access paths are suitable for wheelchair users and people with pushchairs. Please remember that dogs are allowed on public rights of way under close control, but many nature reserves do not allow access for dogs. Broads information centres stock walks leaflets and guides.

Cycling

Gently rolling countryside, quiet lanes, wide open skies - take to two wheels with bikes from the Broads bike hire network and you'll discover hidden backwaters, thatched churches and wildlife treasures. There are bike hire centres throughout the Broads - details from Broads information centres. Day, half-day, hourly and family rates are available. Centres supply helmets, locks and racks, as well as a map of a long or short cycle route starting from each centre. Some centres also have children's bikes, child seats and tandems.

Canoeing

The Broads is a great place to go up the creeks with a paddle, and Canadian canoes are suitable for all the family. They usually carry up to three adults but you are advised to check with the operator. There are canoe hire centres throughout the Broads - details from Broads information centres. There are day, half-day, hourly and 24 hour rates. Hire centres supply buoyancy aids and waterproof bags and staff will advise you on safety and on a suitable route. Canoeing is ideal for exploring the headwaters (less tidal waters). We don't recommend canoeing in the lower reaches. If you do you need to be extremely experienced, fit and able.

Boat trips

Electric Eel

How Hill National Nature Reserve has something of everything that makes the Broads so special - its very own broad, fens, grazing marshes, woodlands and drainage mills. Take a boat trip on the Electric Eel along the reed-fringed dykes, follow the Wildlife Walking Trail to explore the reserve on foot and visit Toad Hole Cottage Museum for a glimpse of life on the marshes about 100 years ago. For boat trip bookings contact Toad Hole Cottage.

Ra

New for 2011, Ra, Britain's first solar-powered passenger boat, has moved south. Ra will be based at Whitlingham Country Park on the River Yare on the edge of Norwich, offering a hi-tech boating experience, excellent views and the chance to see Broads wildlife close to the city. Ra has a ramp so is accessible to wheelchair users. For boat trip bookings contact Whitlingham Visitor Centre.

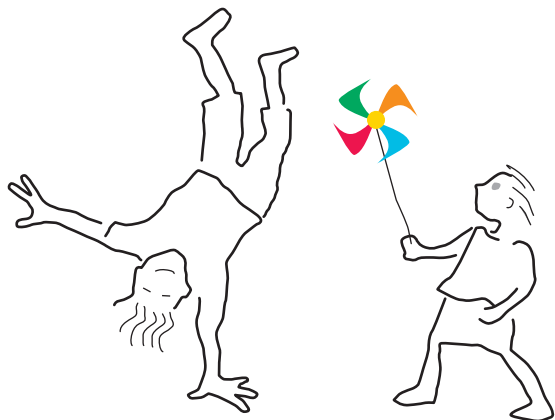

Liana

New for 2011, Liana has moved north to Hoveton to offer a completely new wildlife boat trip. A trip on Liana offers Edwardian style, travelling along the River Bure towards Coltishall and back, the only trip taking this route, with plenty of time to enjoy this tranquil and varied stretch of river with woodlands and meadows, just minutes from the centre of Wroxham. For boat trip bookings contact Hoveton Broads Information Centre.

FUN IN THE BROADS

Fun in the Broads is the events programme for the Broads, which runs each year from Easter onwards. Events include boat trips, canoe trails, walks, children's activity days and many others, suitable for all ages. Find out some of the best places for rare Broads wildlife, discover local history and traditions, visit hidden away parts of the Broads and meet some of the people who keep the Broads special.

The Broadcaster visitor magazine, published every year by the Broads Authority, lists events and is packed with other useful information. Broadcaster is available free from Broads information centres. Full details of events are available from www.enjoythebroads.com
